[illegible]

Well Mark, what if you got to say for yourself. With a little make-up ya might look good to f.v. Good Luck. Gregg.

Mark, Well you made it out of Nova, graduated that is. Good Luck in what ever it is you're going to do. Remember N.T.P. too. Leslie Adams

Mark -

Though I only got to know you, you're a really great guy. Good Luck always and may success always be with you.

Mark, we finally made it - alive even! I'll never forget your smiling face on T.V. Best of Luck in whatever you do. Remember Jimmy Hoffman Big George's drama class!)

Hi Mark!

They know. They have felt it, for it engulfs them. Eyes of the onyx, mouths of the pearl, heads of gold—these are molded into the ornaments of which the precious person is made. From this plateau of being, they shall step up to the height of identity.

you are during the play - here's one to build up your ego - you're a fantastic actor

The man with the speaking face knows.
Every joy he has known, every heartbreak, screams from its mark upon the man. Projected in his eyes is the insight
upon the thorny path awaiting us. He laughs for us, for we will be happy; likewise, he weeps. Show us of life, man, so that we too
may wear its knowledgeable mask.

In this absolute must you see. The moth which sees only for the day travels the airways which bring him to the night content. In his brief being he experiences the varied currents of the air, chooses one, and follows it unto his end. He glorifies himself through himself. In this too, must you walk.

Prayer rises to god of free spirit. Melt and unite these into your consciousness.
Reweave the system into spirit, of fiery rising stalks into a field, rippling joyous like fur, motion unconscious of time,
organic waves free as oceans, with the depth and fullness of cosmic seas.

I now look back to my days. I see the glory of my life in their eyes, for behind me they come, experiencing the buffeting of a thousand tiny winds. From these squalls will they learn to stand firm in the turmoil. Joy, victory, and sorrow shall they feel.

What do they know of life? What of the burdens of mere existence? That page of which nature inscribes her lines tells all—The joy of a yesterday's pleasure, the sorrow of a day's unknown passage—the eagerness for the morrow. Cast from that bottomless pit which hungers for the fullness of knowledge, the gleam of the hungry man is cast upon the ethereal.

Registration Reflects Usual Student Confusion

School was out. Go home, whoop it up, work it off, and school was starting.

Registration was smooth this year. Maybe the whole place just seemed smoother with another year's wear. Everything, well, almost, was waiting.

Booklets—Step 1; Step 2; Procedures 1,2, & 3. One place for busses, another for fees.

The inevitable mothers with their seventh graders were smiling unconcernedly or looking baffled. Haircuts were scrutinized for decency and cleanliness. You weren't shaven and shorn, you weren't registered. (Period.)

The handbook was given out. The handbook was taken back.

And the line at the schedule-change table was endless.

As August signaled the start of a new school year, the reminders of the past year arrived with the 1968 Olympian. The yearbooks were grandly received at the signing party.

A New Book Relives Old Memories

The gym resounded with the squeals of the younger, the grunts of the older, and the frantic scratching of assorted Bic pens. Meanwhile, the staff members tried to hand books out as quickly as possible, pacify those who had no receipt, and guard their carton of annuals from over-eager fingers. Just to add a little flair, five bands were there to do battle with each other and the crowd for the ultimate volume level.

The graduated seniors returned, and mingled, and signed. When they departed, it was with finality, carrying the wishes of old friends beneath their arms.

1) As quickly as hands can work, the yearbooks are passed out;
2) Johanna Horan, Olympian Staff member, distributes yearbook to Brian Stevens.

1) One of Exchange Club's volunteers falls reluctantly into their dunking contraption; 2) Clay Hansen tries to win a big paper flower at the Garter Toss booth; 3) Hard-working Susie Stevens helps in the cheerleaders' booth; 4) Joyce Jackson sells balloons for Keyettes' money-making project.

First Carnival Nets Fun and Profit

The carnival was a great big gorgeous smile. Balloons and lights and flags and booths and screamingly happy faces all blended into a giant belly-laugh. It was the Student-Council's baby-doll which came to life through the imaginations of all the clubs and fun people. It was a throwback to elementary days, a forerunner of Halloween, with all the ingredients of a full-fledged festival.

Anchor painted bodies and sold beads (varicolored bits of psychedelia.) The two Exchanges dunked all the laughing fools that climbed out upon their little chair over the water. Keyettes peddled bright balloons and paper flowers. The Senior Class gave everyone a bash, and Key Club carried all around on a magic hayride which was ambushed by Davie kids carrying eggs. There were puppy raffles, crab races, and satin garters. It was a birthday party, a big smile.

1) Cynthia George and Barb Seybert discuss Anchor matters; 2) It's time to ponder the day's events and relax; 3) A face in the crowd; 4) Excedrin headache bus No. 129; 5) An unexpected visitor is quickly sent to Mr. Fitzpatrick's office.

1) Helping Anchor win the building trophy for the second consecutive year are club members Jo Gail Williams, Becky Jerue, Shelly Boyer and Sue Wolf; 2) Marshall Platt and Robert Mack, Key Club members, find that cleaning up is also a big part of homecoming; 3) A football collage made by the Keyettes decorates the Language building; 4) The band and chorus show the spirit of homecoming by decorating their own building.

Decoration of Buildings Begins Titan Week

Titan Week came early this year, catching everyone with no time to spare. In October, people began planning their buildings and floats, and the spirit rared back and roared.

Pete Suni and Jackie Foss masterminded the week, the parade, and the half-time activities. Others organized the building decorations, gimmicks, and the pep rally. All the girls started wondering if they would get a mum from someone besides Mom or their "secret pal."

And so it progressed from an expectation into a realization. The school dressed in its best, and everyone wondered who the queen would be. The buildings streamed with color and spirit and the weather was perfect for football. And so the game and the night arrived.

Homecoming: A Kaleidoscope of Color and Pageantry

The south stands of Lockhart Stadium were teeming with Nova supporters at least 30 minutes before game time. At a signal, everyone ran to their floats and hopped on. Didn't they look good in spite of the holes and patches and wind damage that had seemed so horrible that afternoon?

As the ecstatic announcer screamed about balloons and floats, the parade began. The Keyettes puttered around on their motorcycles while everyone else followed in their sod-covered trucks.

The game against South Broward began. The first half went well and the Titans scored in the second quarter before adjourning for half-time.

The long-awaited naming of Miss Titan 1968 finally arrived. The contestants were presented to an approving stand, and the winner announced.

After the crowning, everyone settled down to wait for a victory to top off a perfect day. However, it seemed that Providence was not smiling upon the Titans. Everyone knows and will swear it was hairy luck that gave the Bulldogs that last field goal and victory.

Yet no one could complain about a lack of enthusiasm. The school turned out for the game with flying colors.

1) Traditional green and yellow balloons are released as the football team enters the field; 2) The five Miss Titan finalists and their fathers anxiously await the beginning of the half-time activities; 3) Thumbs up for the Titan's opening kickoff; 4) The team mascot, Jeff Clay, finds out that it's not so easy watching from the sidelines.

Miss Titan 1968

Sparkling with excitement, Miss Barbara McCormick became Miss Titan 1968 on November 1. Half-time homecoming ceremonies at Lockhart Stadium proceeded for the fifth time in Nova's history, this year with motorcycles, parading floats, balloons, pompons, dignitaries, precision marchers, and festive music.

Barbara's father and the fathers of the other four senior finalists escorted their daughters, Linda Yandel, Kathy Keplinger, Susie Stevens and Kathy Gilbert onto the field for the festivities. With the Miss Titan announcement, the crowd exploded into applause, and Barbara broke into tears. Mr. Louis E. McCormick, her father, proudly stated that the whole affair was "Great."

Barbara has attended Nova since she entered the seventh grade in the first year of Nova's existence. This year she served as Captain of Nova's drill team, the Titanaires. She was a charter member of Anchor Club and has been a representative to Student Council.

Marryin' Sam and Hayrides Makes Sadie Hawkins

1) Marryin' Sam, Andy Degraffenreidt, performs the ceremony between Bonnie Ward and Jim Tucker; 2) Dale Lockner sports a Dogpatch corsage; 3) Mary Stevens and Paul Rutledge sit out this dance; 4) Mr. Ugly, Vian Avedisian, and Daisy Mae, Betsy Boyle are married by Marrin' Sam, with Bill Edwards as a witness; 5) Bette Jean Gould tries to get Rusty Fifer to the Marriage Booth.

Dozens of bales of hay transformed the gym into Dogpatchland when the Key Club renewed their customary social event, the Sadie Hawkins Dance, for the fifth year.

The dance was preceded by a week of promotional activities known as Sadie Hawkins Week. Outstanding among these were contests held to select a Mister Ugly and Daisy Mae. Vian Avedisian and Betsy Boyle were the winners of the respective titles.

Unique blends of lettuce, carrots, celery, radishes and scallions offered girls a chance to buy their favorite beau a special Sadie Hawkins corsage.

Tuesday of Sadie Hawkins Week brought the second annual edition of the Dogpatch Carrier, a one-page newspaper written and edited by the Key Club members.

Sugar Cane Sets Basin Street Mood

Basin Street East was the end product of weeks of planning. The secret "let's-decide-our-theme" meetings began in September behind closed conference room doors. Marietta Benevento and Company were going to put on a show, and it was going to be a good one, or none at all. So the committee people started thinking New Orleans and the work began. The plans for food, staging, music, and thousands of other necessities were painstakingly laid. On the day before the December 7th Follies, sugar cane was sold during lunch mods.

Follies Echo Blues of New Orleans

On Follies night, the gym was transformed into a New Orleans Blues cellar. It was crowded with enthusiastic students and adults, many dressed in the costumes of the 1930 Blues era.

The acts ranged from lively dance routines by the cheerleaders and Titanaires, to a quiet, somber recitation of original poetry by Mark Rosenstein. Duffy Jackson treated the crowd to a slapstick, pie-in-the-face comedy and a drum duet with John Hagen. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Fitzpatrick made an appearance and revitalized the jitterbug to the delight of the audience.

It was more than an effort of Mrs. Joyce Hall and the Senior Class. It was everyone's party, everyone's show.

1) Marietta Benevento and Joanne Rogers design posters for publicity; 2) The Titanaires rehearse their Follies skit; 3) Cheerleaders Sue Somerall and Kathy Gilbert perform their lively dance routines; 4) Comedy is provided by Dick Geisinger and John Morris; 5) Mistress of Ceremonies Marietta Benevento opens the production with a song.

Courtyard is Transformed into Hootenanny

The Hootenanny climaxed Exchange activities for the 1968-69 year. Planning began almost as soon as school opened, and several different dates were set.

Early in the day the club members arrived to set up the perfect place for a Hootenanny. All the hard work paid off.

The double stages set up in the courtyard afforded continuous entertainment. John Cooney and Pete Suni handled the master of ceremonies duties and ran the show smoothly.

Two professional groups were hired for the occasion and many Nova students also participated. The $25 prize for the best act was awarded to the group of Sue Somerall, Carol Somerall, Art Stern-gold, Kathy Gilbert and Duffy Jackson.

The weather was perfect for a Hootenanny. The moon, the entertainment, the location helped make the evening successful.

1) Shadows loom over the buildings as performers are silhouetted against the sky; 2) Betty Stevens, Buffy Judd, Lane Johnson, Paige Helmtoller, and Eric Edminston entertain; 3) "Love is Blue" is performed Jeff Burger, Chris Bigney, and Duffy Jackson; 4) Phil Hadley and Carl Cozine, one of several professional acts; 5) John Cooney and Pete Suni, Masters of Ceremonies, directed the show; 6) Gary and Bill Elston, another professional group; 7) Duffy Jackson accompanies Joann Segal.

Nova Builds Pool

The Nova Pool, planned well over a year ago, is finally a reality. The cranes have returned to the construction companies, the dirt has been towed away, and the pool remains proudly in its place.

The pool's funds were raised by Nova students and the Nova Parents Association. Mrs. Gina Parker generously contributed $20,000, and Nova is indebted to her, among many others.

Audience Applauds Drama Club's Production

Under the direction of Mr. George Langenfass of the Nova English Department, the Drama Club produced "The Man Who Came to Dinner," in the auditorium at Nova Elementary during March. The play, a comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, played an unscheduled third night by popular request.

Major actors were Mark Rowe, Lorelei Heinmiller, Sybil Weiner and Bayard Sellars. Mr. Tom Welsh of the Math Department made a surprise appearance as a faculty actor.

1) Charlene Melms is shocked by a comment from Mark Rowe as Dennis Trigg looks on. 2) Sue Mowery and Bayard Sellars look over an article in a magazine written about them and their houseguest. 3)

Mark Rowe, as Sheridan Whiteside, barks orders at Dan Fagnoli, Thoburn Russell, Bayard Sellars, Sue Mowery and Barbara Moorman.

Susie Stevens Is Prom Queen

The Class of 1969, believing in style and elegance, held the Senior Class Prom March 19 at the Eden Roc Hotel and Yacht Club on Miami Beach.

Sergio Franchi and David Frye headlined the bill in the Pompeii Room, with an exclusive show for the 400 guests attending. After the dinner and show, the prom moved to the Cotillion Room for desert and dancing until 2 a.m.

In a short ceremony Jerry Gorde' and Steve Chaykin, Prom Chairmen, and Jeff Crane, Senior Class president, crowned Miss Susie Stevens Queen of the Prom, 1969. Other candidates Marietta Benevento, Jan Harbaugh, Kathy Keplinger, and Linda Yandel were presented.

Many hard hours of work and planning were put in by Prom Chairmen Gorde' and Chaykin, with solid backing from Senior Class Sponsors Mrs. Joyce Hall, Mrs. Anne McMichael, and Mr. William Moore, and committee members Jeff Crane, Edie Feng, Jan Harbaugh, and John Morris.

Organization and imagination set a precedent for Nova proms-to-be.

1) Steve Chaykin and Jerry Gorde', Prom Chairmen; 2) Sergio Franchi delivers a thrilling performance; 3) David Frye delivers his comedy routine to the audience; 4) Steve Drewson and his date enjoy their dessert in the Cotillion room; 5) Charlie Forman and Susie Stevens stand on stage after announcement of Prom Queen; 6) Ed Charles and Judy Leterman come into the Pompeii Room for dinner; 7) Andy Greene and his date look for their nameplates.

JSC Heats Pool with Candy Sale Profits

From August 12 'til the send-off day (the ultimate deadline) the students of the Olympian staff worked to put out a yearbook. Yearbooks are produced in an atmosphere of sophisticated and structured chaos.

The races were against time and each other. How do you talk the president of a bank into taking an ad! How do you sell more yearbooks than Cynthia George who toured the bus stops intimidating children and taking their money? The staff was comprised of individuals (anarchists?). But that was nice because Mrs. Edwene Dempsey respected creativity and individuality and no one was trod upon.

The work was immense—pictures to be scheduled, shot, printed, and picked, copy to be written, edited, and re-written. Layouts to do, meetings with publishers, and scores of loose ends to tie. We tried to produce a book with meaning, artistry, and class. The 1969 Olympian speaks for itself.

New Ideas and New Sponsor Make Successful Nova Vue

The Nova Vue managed to come through another year with a mixture of misplaced commas, threats of censorship, and an ability to come out every three weeks. Under the guidance of a new advisor, Mrs. Edwene Dempsey, the award-winning Nova Vue continued its campaign for one cause or another.

The staff labored under the misdirection of Larry Gardner, the tyrannical editor-in-chief, and Mike Bogin, the romantic cynic of executive editors. In addition Bob 'Ace' Greene served as sports director, David Bianculli as news editor, and Barb (b.b.b.) Berkeley as business manager. Rounding out the staff were Left Bank columnist R. Dudley Browning, photographers Wayne Dillehay, Vernon Chedsey, and Steve Cashdollar, and reporters Dianne Owen, Ruth Gilbert, Denny O'Shea, Mike Gustafson, and Marshall Alexander.

Sharing the publications room with the Olympian staff created a competitive spirit which contributed toward the stealing of pictures, obscene notes in mailboxes, and animosities which will probably never die. The Nova Vue was sold this year, and stacks of unsold papers lined the Pub shelves, occasionally dropping on unsuspecting visitors.

Nova Choruses Perform Throughout County

This year nearly 300 choral students were divided into four groups: Choralus, Girls' Varsity, Boys' Junior Varsity, and Girls' Junior Varsity. The Nova Choralus held twelve performances this year, including participation in the Senior High County Festival, a concert at the Lauderhill Mall, a banquet, concert with the band in the gym, and Christmas caroling in several of the county nursing homes.

The entire department presented a full-scale program at Stranahan Auditorium in March, particularly in recognition of the departing seniors.

The finale of the year was the Annual Nova Sing held in late spring in the gym. Groups from the elementary schools were invited to perform.

Nova's junior high choruses also participated in the Junior High County Festival. Eleven Nova choral students were chosen to represent Nova in the State Music Clinic in Daytona Beach.

F.T.A. Gains Experience Teaching at Nova I

Future Teachers of America perform services in many fields. Among these are assisting teachers on teacher work day and helping host faculty receptions, teaching at Nova Elementary (for upperclassmen), holding a bake sale and a car wash.

Teaching at the elementary school provided the students interested in considering a career in education with valuable insight into the profession.

F.T.A. demonstrated its school spirit by constructing a car float for Titan Week.

Latin Club Revives a Fascinating Culture

Latin may be a dead language, but to the busy members of the Nova Latin Club the culture is living and fascinating. The veterans are excited about the new crop of club members, and are planning the annual initiation in their honor.

Early this spring, the Latin scholars from District IX of the Florida Latin Clubs gathered to match their knowledge at Plantation High School. High scorers in these contests moved on to Gainesville where they met Latin students from all over the state. At the end of this year, sponsor and Latin teacher, Mr. Joseph Galen helped the club plan the annual banquet which as usual proved a huge success.

Debate Club is No Longer Unknown Quality

There are no loaded bleachers or screaming crowds during the matches . . . no green-and-gold clad cheerleaders sparking the fans during the tense moments of play. Yet without these spirited scenes, the Nova Debate Club has begun to shake its relatively unknown existence and is fast becoming a recognized facet of the Nova community.

Sponsored by Mrs. Alma Anthony and Mrs. Rhoda Radow, the club advanced this year to win second and third place in the county, and, according to Mrs. Anthony "has won more than ever."

The team itself consists of four divisions, varsity, junior varsity, varsity extension, and junior varsity extension. Belonging to the first section are Chuck Malool, Bruce Fineman, Jeff Gilmore, and Marie McCoy. The junior varsity squad subdivides into two section. The first contains Kevin Jewell, Bill Setchfield, John Howard, and Brad Swanson, and competing in the second section are John Russin, Thajuana Miller, Ira Chinoy, and Ron Schwartzman.

The varsity extension boasts of members Mark Rowe, John Ordnung, Larry Lewis, Stewart Blumstein, Carol Bohstedt, and Lynda Loss. Barb Perry, Ricki McDaniels, Sibylle Weiner, John Edmiston, Dennis Emma, and Brad Smith comprise the junior varsity extension team, with Ben Griffes and Jeff Lichtman as backups.

Math and French Clubs Promote Work in Different Areas

President John Whittaker heads the French Club, one of the most culturally oriented clubs at Nova. Potentially bi-lingual members are treated to colorful commentaries on French life in the form of movies and slides. Additional information is provided by the fascinating guest speakers that Mrs. Beverly Muskat, sponsor, is able to obtain. As a supplement to their learning by visual means, the club visits French restaurants, for a sample of the Gallic foods.

Walk into M-10 and see students working excitedly over difficult math problems. Impossible? No, Tom Tosch, president of Mu Alpha Theta, will tell you. It's done all the time, except when distinguished math professors come to deliver a lecture to the club. And when people can't come to the Math club, the Math Club goes to the people. Field trips take the club members to computer centers and other points of interest. They also sponsor a chess tournament, open to the entire school.

Keyette Spirit Beanies Arouse Titan Tusslers

The sultry savior of the Keyettes—Sindi Smith sent her faithful followers to another year of stardom in '68-'69. Opening the year with their back-to-school dance, the Keyettes fought and worked their way through Titan Week to create the winning Homecoming float with Key Club.

Their spirit beanies for the final football game against Plantation proved successful once again, and not long after came the announcement of the Keyette Sweetheart, Tim Sullivan. In between were flower-making workshops for the SCC carnival, Honda-riding practice for the Homecoming parade, new T-shirts, visiting the Alden House to play Bingo and talk, ad infinitum. There were slumber parties for fun and slumber parties for friendliness that turned out fun. It was a memory year.

Key Makes a Year of Success in '68 and '69

Key Club made a year of successes in '68 and '69. Their projects were small in number but always well-organized and well-prepared.

Key and Keyettes combined their forces during Titan Week and built a magnificent float which took first place. The work had begun weeks before with the two clubs building an immense dog which suffered decapitation at their hands during the pre-game parade.

At the carnival sponsored by Student Council, Key Club ran a coin toss booth and a hay ride which was the delight of sweethearts and seventh graders until it was egged by parties unknown.

Alan Rachlin served as president this year and Mr. Lewis Shelley sponsored the club. Key members chose as their sweetheart Marie McCoy, a senior in Keyettes.

As a yearly service project, Key club adopted a Korean child. At a higher level Nova's Key Club helped to organize the Key state convention.

Exchangettes Work for School and Community

Before school opened in August, the Exchangettes held a teacher luncheon in appreciation of Nova teachers. The girls sent welcoming letters to new students at Nova. They kept busy selling French pastries and co-sponsored with Exchange the popular dunking booth at the SSC carnival. The Exchangettes sold corsages for Valentines Day, and that night the King and Queen of Hearts were crowned at their Valentine's Dance.

Service was extended to the community through a number of projects. Exchangettes conducted a paper drive for the American Legion and a campaign for the South Florida Mental Hospital. Playing Santa, the girls repaired toys for the Salvation Army and decorated an orphanage at Christmas.

Promoting school spirit was the major activity of the Exchange Club during the year. Many students who attended the Titan Week pep rally were unaware that it was sponsored by the Exchange Club. Led by President Pete Suni, the Exchange Club also worked at the Homecoming game. They were the guys who sold balloon tickets throughout the week. At the game, tickets were exchanged for bright yellow and green balloons.

Over 1000 balloons were released by a record crowd when the Titans ran onto the field. Near the end of the year, the Exchange Club staged an untraditional version of the traditional Hootenanny. Exchange Club Sponsor was Mr. B. J. Van Arsdall, guidance counselor.

Titan Power, as promoted by Anchor caught the imagination of the student body. Spirit hats were seen everywhere on campus before each football game. At the end of the season, Anchor sponsored an Appreciation Bar-B-Q in honor of the varsity football team.

For its second year of activities, Anchor chose a variety of interesting and original projects. The girls sold mistletoe at Christmas, sang carols at a rest home, and had a slave sale in March.

On the traditional side, Anchor carried off first place for Titan Week Building Decorations, for the second consecutive year. They also celebrated the coronation of the Anchor Admiral, Captain, and First Mate at the Shipwreck Dance in early spring.

Community Benefits from Interact Service

Interact placed special emphasis upon service in 1968. Their projects were primarily centered about our school and the Ft. Lauderdale Oral School.

Interact members were pledged to maintaining the parking lot and often on weekends you could find them sweeping and clearing away the glass and trash. Christmas time, Interact took it upon themselves to bake 200 cookies for the children at the Oral School. They succeeded . . . but not without several burns and other various kitchen casualties. No one knows just how well the kitchen they used survived.

They also sold their Titan license plates and started the first program at Nova to promote Boy's and Girl's State. Interact's seniors gave the school its Hall of Fame Board as a final mark of their services.

Cheerleaders Sparkle Titan Crowds

Working hard is the sacrifice any team must pay for excellence, and the varsity cheerleaders have certainly paid the price. Cheering staunchly for the athletic teams is their job, and their great enjoyment. Their satisfaction is the ultimate victory of the Nova Titans.

The cheerleaders won the car float contest in the pre-game parade at Homecoming.

Captain Linda Yandel has her cohorts, Jan Harbaugh, Kathy Gilbert, Sue Somerall, Kathy Keplinger, Susie Stevens, Mary Lou Saarinen, Donna Garry, Mary Jo Atherton, Debbie Nigro, and Cindy Petrovich out at three o'clock every afternoon practicing their cheers and they are always there at the games, leading the excited throngs in cheers for the Titan teams.

Pep and Spirit Radiate from Cheerleading Teams

By the time tenth year rolls around cheerleaders have picked up the marks of the trade. The girls have also developed a genuine feeling for their team and throats ache and eyes sting all too easily when a losing streak hits. It's hard to maintain a smile, but somehow they do it.

This year's Junior Varsity cheerleaders were Joretta Bohannon, Luanne Fitzpatrick, captain, Michelle Fox, Karen Gilbert, Holly Goodman, Lisa Helmin-toller, Val Viator, Lynn Zaritsky.

A football team of their own, and pride in its marks the ninth-year cheerleaders. The Jr. High Cheerleaders were Donna Atherton, Gayla Banks, Diane Crum, Jane Kelbe, Cindy Reynolds, Patty Robinson, Loretta Studiale, and Susan Young.

Basketball! . . . The magic word for eighth-year cheerleaders. The girls worked before school all fall learning the cheers and preparing for their debut at the Rogers game. Nancy and Brooke, Susan and Sharon, Carol and Peggy, Renee and Daria. Eight girls symbolizing the pep and spirit of the youngest sector.

Titanaires Enlarge Titan Spunk

One, two, three, four; one, two, three, four. Forever and ever, the Titanaires march on across the field, a symbol of dedication and Titan spirit. "Hey, Look Me Over" was greeted by cheers almost as exuberant as those reserved for the players themselves.

Miss Diane Fansler and an unbelievable amount of perseverance has made our drill team a group the entire school is very proud of. Occasional mishaps (maybe a one, two, three, four) are obligingly overlooked by all in the stands except Miss Fansler. Her steady drilling of the team, aimed at perfection, resulted in a group of girls stepping out intricate maneuvers as a smooth unit. Their captain was Barb McCormick and co-captain was Leslee McChristian.

Nova's largest group of girls, the Pep Club, covered the campus with stick-on footballs with green and gold streamers, basketball schedules, and spirit posters.

On a campus where student apathy is supposedly more common than school spirit, the Pep Club coped with meetings described as "massive."

Through the coordination efforts of President Jackie Foss, the club sponsored a student bus trip to Ft. Myers and sold bright yellow Homecoming Mums.

Mrs. Virginia Woodburn, faculty sponsor, supervised the club's many varied activities.

Pep Club Enhances Fervor of Titan Enthusiasts

"We're from Nova, couldn't be prouder!" The well-known cheer is a short and simple definition of the purpose of the Pep Club. They work to promote pride and enthusiasm for our school in a variety of ways. One of the most important, though perhaps least appreciated is doing the "dirty work" for each game, such as making signs and putting up posters.

The girls sold Pep tags for each football and basketball game, and distributed mums for Homecoming. The group is composed of the Titanaires, cheerleaders, and all interested students. Jackie Foss, president, led the Pep Club through a year in which it was one of the most important school organizations.

SSC Was Virtually a Menagerie of Talents

The beleaguered organization. "Oh student in the hall . . . What do you want from the Student Council?" As always, as usual . . . ? "Off campus lunches." Meanwhile, the administrators request that SSC do something about the patio. And so the officers and representatives plunged through another year, trying to settle the matters they could and ignoring the Battle Eternal as to just where the students should eat.

The curriculum committee was organized early in the year and Student Council became a bridge between faculty and students. In the Science Dept. students and teachers got together and began revising LAPS and suggesting materials that could afford the most efficient and enjoyable course available.

Student Council sponsored a carnival early in the year which was a smashing success as all grade levels and organizations participated. A service, traditional with the council has been the handling of the sales of yearbook picture packets.

Sterngold, Rosenstein, Goss . . . Outstanding organizers, good officers, hard workers. The Council was a virtual menagerie of talents and outlooks, which Mrs. Carolyn Lewis guided with the ever-present, gentle administrative hand.

The new Constitution was pounded out, hassled over, approved, revised, reworded, and presented to the students. Nova had its first Constitutional Convention, with each ad-com choosing a representative to help mold the constitution, newly formed. It was student body involvement to the full extent of the word.

Negro History Week was announced. It was a culmination of more than a year's work from SIRAC, (Student Inter-Racial Action Committee) a sub-committee of SSC.

The usual annual election of Senior Council officers was held in March. Bill Foster was elected President for the 1969-1970 school year.

JSC Launches New Activities, Ideas, Projects

As president of the Junior Student Council, Andy Castor has provided the type of leadership badly needed but seldom found in school organizations. One of the most active of all student groups, even though comprised of junior high students, the JSC sponsored a candy sale, a food committee, and a dance in the spring.

The Candy Sale was a tremendous success, netting well over $3000. The entire amount was used in the purchase of a heater for the new pool. Enthusiasm generated by the organizers spread to the entire junior high student body, an unexpected turnout to sell candy, resulting in several reorders for more candy.

The superlatives Dance, another important first in Junior High Activities, was planned for spring.

Basil Papadales is the president of the Junior Engineering Technical Society, a club with noble goals. They try to provide a preview of engineering and the sciences and an acquaintance with men in these fields. They want to be aware of the opportunities for careers in engineering and technical fields, to gain a better foundation to meet the demands of engineering colleges and technical institutes, and to learn to apply engineering principles in the design construction of technical projects.

The JETS did research work this year and wrote technical reports for the construction of a multi-interest technical project. They also enjoyed seminars with Nova University and Broward Junior College teachers and students and went on field trips to films.

Walking up the narrow stairway to upper LL, one may encounter Tom Tosch, Academic Games president, working busily on the plans for a contest, perhaps with Pinecrest. Being the most experienced gamesman, along with Bayard Sellars, can mean some burdens.

Hosting the National Academic Olympics is one of them. Nova has welcomed 250 out-of-state students in each of the past few years. The members of the games club have stood up well in the national competition.

Nova is the national headquarters of the Academics Games Clubs, with the responsibility of educating students in the ways of the mind-stretching activities. Upon investigation the mental prowess of the members in some friendly competition, one is forced to admit that they live up to their responsibility.

Valiant Thespians Forge Forward

The Thespians, along with the band and the art students, have the job of providing Nova with culture. With a goal of several good plays to be presented last year, the Thespians started strong with plans to produce The Man Who Came To Dinner. But while Mr. Langenfass desperately looked for a stage, plans sort of . . . withered?

But never fear, just before Christmas somebody lit the fire, and the valiant Thespians forged forward with new and equally ambitious plans. A stage had been found, Mark Rowe decided he liked being a star, and two months of rehearsals culminated in the performances of The Man Who Came To Dinner, at the Nova Elementary School Auditorium.

Junior Honor Society Sponsors Honor Roll

This was the first full year of operation for the Nova Junior Honor Society. Refusing to become a clique of "smart kids," the organization was an active and important addition to the school.

For membership, students had to maintain a 7.5 average. The group sponsored an Honor Roll for those who achieved this outstanding average.

Brad Swanson, ninth grader, was president. Under his direction, the Honor Society organized a Canned Food Drive, and in December, a Movie Night. A popular motion picture was shown at low prices. In February and March, an Art, Literature, and Photography Contest was held for the Junior high only. The work was displayed around the school, and the winners received trophies.

Pre-season Hopes Meet with Disappointment

The Nova Titans, led by four first team All-County members, finished a disappointing season with a 6—3—1 mark.

Along with Ft. Lauderdale High, Nova was the pre-season favorite to capture county honors.

Mike Moore, the top quarterback in the county, is only a junior and should help next year's team, which lost only one starting backfield member, fullback Rick Brautigan.

Nova's three losses were heartbreakers, particularly a 17—14 loss to South Broward. With the score tied 14—14, Bulldog Ron Guinto kicked a field goal with no seconds on the clock. The week before Nova lost to Blanche Ely, 15—7, the surprise team in the county and possibly the best. Ely runners Alton Evans and Dennis Holloway were very successful against a usually tough defense.

In the second game of the season, against Ft. Lauderdale, the Titans tripled the yardage of the L's, but lost, 14—0.

The Titan defense, led by All-County team members Glen Deibert, John Ordnung, and Rod Chadwick, was probably the most successful unit in the county.

Only once did Nova opponents score more than two touchdowns, when Stranahan tied the Titans 20—20.

In the Northeast game, Halfback Harry Balestrieri gave perhaps his finest performance of the season

Overall Team Effort Marks Season

when he ran for 94 yards and caught 48 yards worth of passes, to lead Nova to a 25—0 victory over the Hurricanes. It had been one year since a Titan back had gained over 100 yards offensively.

Nova's victories came against McArthur, 7—0, Ft. Myers, 18—0, Hollywood Hills, 26—0, Pompano, 20—12, and Plantation, 30—14.

J.V. Football Team Hampered by Injuries

The year 1968 was not the year of the Titan. At least not for Nova's Junior Varsity Football team.

The squad suffered through a 3—4—1 record and lost its season final to an undefeated Ft. Lauderdale team, 13—6.

The game could have gone either way. As usual the J.V. squad beat their opponent in total offense but committed too many costly mistakes. They had 231 yards to Lauderdale's 158.

Quarterback Frank Balestrieri drilled passes to his receivers all night long for 199 yards, but this wasn't enough.

Coach Paul Woodall looked as if he might lead his team to a second straight undefeated season, but early season hardships stopped any hopes of this.

Two of his key players, Quarterback Bruce Costello and middle guard Bill Lapere, were moved up to varsity after the first game. Then a few injuries came and the Titans never quite performed the same as they did on opening night when they bombed Northeast, 26—0.

1) Bill Rodriguez returns punt; 2) Good defense serves the Titans well; 3) Bill Rodriguez finds the going tough; 4) Bill Rodriguez opens the way for Dick Judd; 5) Frank Balestrieri leads the Junior Varsity Titans offensive team.

In their next game they edged Pompano 12—8, thus ending any more victories for Nova until the second-to-last game in which they beat previously unbeaten Chaminade, 19—14. End Jim Cates caught three touchdown passes, all coming from Balestrieri.

Their losses came against Strananhan, 24—6, in a rain-soaked match which never should have been played, Plantation, 20—0, Hollywood Hills, 19—12, and Ft. Lauderdale.

The true greatness of this team showed up in the statistics. Their total average per game was 200 yards, 101 passing, and 99 rushing. The defense limited their opponents to a mere 122 yards total offense, 36 passing, and 86 rushing.

Tailback Dick Judd climaxed the season when he received the Most Valuable Player award. The outstanding runner had a total of 540 yards for a 3.3 average per carry, and scored 26 points. On defense, Clay McGonagill collected the most tackles and fumbles at 55 and four respectively. Split-end Vince Haydock was leading receiver with 19 catches for 249 yards and two touchdowns.

Early Injuries Result in Poor Season

Although the ninth-year team was unable to generate a consistent offensive threat, Coach Charles Bonar hopes for better next year.

Outstanding performances of the season were the defensive play of Andi Perini and the offensive play of Clifford Jackson.

Injuries to key players at the beginning of the season was the main reason for Nova's unsuccessful season.

The team record was 0—4. The margins of defeat were as follows: Nova 0—Rogers 13, Nova 0—Parkway 34, Nova 0—New River 26, Nova 0—Plantation 36, and the final contest against McNicol was cancelled.

Individual standouts at their positions were Kevin Hanna, John Dickey, Clifford Jackson, Mike Briche, Doug Campbell, and Andi Perini.

This marks the first season in which a Nova Junior High team has been defeated.

1) Parkway scores against Nova defense; 2) Nova's Kevin Hanna gets handoff for tough yardage against Parkway; 3) Plantation takes punt return for big yardage; 4) Mike Sims finds little daylight against New River; 5) Nova's offensive line stiffens as they await signals from Q.B. Mike Daniels.

Cross Country Team Runs for Third Place

For the second time, the Nova Cross-country team finished third behind Stranahan and Ft. Lauderdale, as the Titans lost 36—72—102 in the annual Flying L Invitational at Birch State Park, Nov. 8.

Ten teams participated in the run, won by Lakeland's Ed Terry with a time of 9:59. Nova's highest finisher was John Sorel with a 10:34 clocking. Hal Knabb, Nova's top harrier this season, finished 17th in 10:41, while Craig Kamp finished one second in front of Knabb. Ft. Lauderdale's Otis Sanders recorded the best time of the season by a Broward county runner as he placed second with a 9.59.

The week before the Titans again finished third behind Stranahan and Ft. Lauderdale. Jim Jones of Stranahan led the Dragons with a first place time of 10:03:5. Knabb again broke his own school record as he finished fourth with a time of 10:25. It was the sixth best time of the season in Broward.

Hal Knabb, Craig Kamp, and Terry Schnarr were the standouts on the team this year, running well in all meets.

Pat Jarvis Leads Titans to Successful Season

Led by super guard Pat Jarvis and "Coach of the Year" Morris McHone, the Titans rolled to a 22—4 record, a third place in the Broward County Athletic Conference, and a District 13AA championship, the best showing ever for a Nova Varsity Basketball squad.

Due to a complicated scoring system the Titans, who tied Pompano Blanche Ely with a 14—2 conference record, dropped to third place behind 12—4 Pompano Beach after being told that if they defeated Pompano Beach and McArthur they would win the B.C.A.C. title, and after doing so were then told due to a mathematical error they could finish no better than third.

Nova Captures 13AA Title

The let-down was short lived as the Titans broke their tournament-play hex by winning their quarter-final of the District 13AA over Hollywood Hills 76—56. In the semi-final round they upended the Stranahan Dragons 64—49 and entered the championship game with Pompano Beach as slight favorites.

The Titans had defeated them twice in the regular season 75—60, and 75—53, and few thought they could defeat the sixth-ranked Tornadoes three times in one season, but thanks to a 21-point scoring spree in the second quarter, Nova blew the Golden Tornadoes out of their gym, 76—62.

In the semi-final round of the Region 4AA tournament. Nova dropped a 67—60 decision to Coral Gables, eventual champs. The Titans only visited the charity line nine times, the least the entire season, and only made 8 of 13 attempts. Nova had 26 field goals to Gables 23, but the Cavaliers had 28 free throws and converted 21 to give them the winning margin. Guard Pat Jarvis scored the game high of 27 points to give him 102 tournament points and a 25.5 average.

At the end of the regular season the 5-11 senior had a 21.6 average, good enough for 4th place in the county and after tourney play had racked up 578 total points, good enough for second place behind Vernon Taylor. Jarvis, the finest basketball player to ever don a Titan uniform, added to his list of impressive credentials by being named first-team guard on all of Broward's major newspapers along with the Miami Herald, and a first strong berth on the Region 4AA All-star squad.

Morris McHone is "Coach of the Year"

Jarvis was perfect from the charity line during ten games, and this combined with his overall basketball ability made him the best guard in Broward County. Never far behind in honors was senior forward Jim Sills who combined strong inside moves with deadly outside accuracy to give him 387 points and a 17.5 average.

The "six man" offense was rounded out by defensive specialists, forward Steve Downing, and center Graham Hutson who frequently gave way to sophomore Brad Smith, and junior guard, Chester Byrd. The Titans had one of the strongest benches in the county, a major factor in its 22-4 season.

Not only were Jarvis and Sills impressive but so was second-year coach Morris McHone as he, too, was honored by most major newspapers as their "Coach of the Year," a fitting farewell for what could be his last year as head coach, for McHone is now looking into the college ranks.

In AA competition Nova was first in defense for the third straight year giving up only 60.4, and second in offense hitting for a 78.6 average.

The Titans opened the season with a six-game winning streak and were on their way to their seventh straight when Pompano Blanche Ely got the hot hand in the third quarter and outscored the Titans 16—11 and walked away with a 73—69 victory. The Tigers defeated Nova for the second time on Jan. 31 without the help of all-state center Vernon Taylor who was ejected in the opening minutes after throwing the ball into Chester Byrd's face.

Nova suffered only one other season defeat, that one at the hands of the Fort Myers Green Wave, which caught Nova at its lowest point of the season and whipped the Titans, 69—54.

Ron Goodwin, Chris Kempf Lead Scoring

Guided by two coaches, the Titan Junior Varsity Basketball Team ended a disappointing 10—8 season by up-ending the McArthur Mustangs in their best offensive display, 80—60.

Coach James Orlosky led the team to a 7—6 mark before accepting a position at the county office and Phys. Ed. instructor Mike MacNamara finished out the season with a 3—2 record including the upset over McArthur.

Sophomore forward Ron Goodwin won the scoring title by racking up 197 points and a 10.9 average just five points ahead of Junior forward Chris Kempf who played only the first 12 games before being elevated to Varsity with 16.0 points per game average. Sophomore Sam George gave the team excellent bench strength as he came off the bench all season long with effective rebound power.

The team had their ups and downs, mostly downs, as the Plantation Colonels avenged their first loss at the hands of the Titans, 61—57, by nipping them, 44—42. Going into the fourth quarter of the South

1) Coach Mike MacNamara talks strategy with Titan starters during time-out; 2) Dennis O'Shea uses height to the maximum in grabbing rebound over Lion defender; 3) Skip Urling tries for two points against reaching opponent; 4) Ron Goodwin shoots from the corner against Chaminade.

Broward game with a 10-point lead, they finally lost, 63—56. Other losses came at the hands of Pompano, who defeated the Titans twice, 63—54, and 45—41, as did county champs Dillard, 62—40 and 71—62, and runners-up Blanche Ely, 70—48 and 74—51.

In the J.V.'s second clash with Stranahan, Junior guard Denny O'Shea stole a Dragon pass but missed the ensuing lay up leaving the game tied at 40-all at the end of regulation time, sending the contest into overtime. The Titans controlled the tip-off and froze the ball until Ron Goodwin was fouled. He converted the shot but a Dragon was fouled and he, too, made both shots. On a perfect pass from Ron Goodwin, Denny O'Shea laid it in to ice the victory for the Titans. Skip Urling added another bucket to make the final score, Nova 45, Stranahan, 42. In their first meeting the Titans downed Stranahan, 47—41.

While scoring an average of only 54.5 points per game and giving up only 43.3, the Titans managed decisive victories over Northeast, 49—32, Chaminade, 60—41, and 68—37, Hollywood Hills, 58—47, and Fort Lauderdale, 53—47, and 65—41.

Baby Titans Lose in First-round Playoff

The ninth-grade basketball team enjoyed only marginal success this year, as they emerged with a 6—7 record. According to Coach Mike MacNamara, the team played well throughout the season, and gained confidence and skill with each game. However, the county competition was some of the toughest ever encountered by a ninth-grade Nova team.

The leading player on the team this year was Mike Sims, the center. It was his consistent play which brought the Baby Titans their six victories.

The season was brought to a close when the Nova ninth graders went up against Plantation in the first round of the county tournament. The Titans played well, and stayed close throughout the entire game. However, the Colonels pulled away, and finally beat the Titans 42—36.

Eighth Graders Exhibit Skill Under Coach Chinn

In his first year as coach of the seventh and eighth grade basketball team, Mr. James Chinn guided the Titans to a surprising record of eight wins against three losses.

En route to a near perfect season the Baby Titans pinned a 31—28 loss on Everglades Junior High, their first defeat in 99 regular season games and one on Parkway, 39—26, which later dropped Nova in the semi-final round of the district play-offs, 34—29. The regular season saw only two defeats, one at the hands of Parkway, 39—27, and the other by revenge-minded Everglades, 34—20.

Led by guard Carlton Byrd, and center Dick Simpson, who both shared the scoring title with 116 points and a 10.5 average, the Titans scored an average of 34.1 points and gave up only 24.9 points a game.

Even though the first string will be moving up to the ninth-grade squad next year, Coach Chinn said, "This year's team was the best group of boys I've ever coached and if next year's work as hard they could go all the way."

1) Randy Collins drives for layup and two points. 2) Seventh-eighth grade squad; First row: Bill MacFatter, Carlton Byrd, Rick Gardner, Bill Lewis, Clint Morris, Don Jarvis; Second row: Mike Caldwell, John Carnovale, Randy Collins, Robert Kerp, Randy Urling, Richard Simpson, Richard Worley, Brian McChristian; Third row: Randy Smith, Davis Esack, Mark Smith, Chip McChristian, Don Tapie.

Nova Golf Team One of Best in County

The best asset to the Nova Golf team as a whole was the ability of all players to play below 40 for nine holes. It is only a matter of all the players doing it at the same time, as seen by Coach Carl Ferrara.

"By having only one senior on the team, and relying on John Gregory, (the team's top player) for additional strength, we should be considered co-favorite, and win the Conference and the District meets respectfully," Ferrara commented early in the season.

The Titans strongest opponent for the year was the Plantation squad.

Ferrara's young team of underclassmen predict greater success in future conference play.

Wrestling Team Enjoys Good Season Despite Illness

Nova Wrestlers, under the coaching of Mr. Jack MacDonald, finished the season on a successful 6—3—1 note.

As seen by Coach MacDonald, the first highlight of the season was proving the team strength after starting the season with sickness and other drawbacks. The second highlight of the season was posting victories over McArthur, defeating Pompano in their second meeting, and finally defeating South Broward by an even larger score.

The wrestling team posted victories over the following schools: South Broward, 24—19, Chaminade, 37—11, McArthur, 26—19, Pompano 25—18, South Broward, 32—16, and Northeast, 41—3. The losses resulted at the hands of Stranahan 17—23, Pompano, 19—27, and Ft. Lauderdale 20—22. The only tie of the season came in the 20—20 tie with Pinecrest.

Rounding out the top players on the team were Andy Greene, in the unlimited division, Paul Callahan (175), Bob Whalen (165), Jay Spechler, (138), Dick Crum (133), and Mike Pratt (120). Virus infections and other ailments hampered the team somewhat.

"More time will be devoted to year-round training for next season," McDonald predicted at season end. "For this, our training program will be stronger, and we hope this will make up for the seniors graduating. We are looking forward next year for boys to fill the heavyweight classes," the coach commented.

Swim Team Splashes Ahead in New Pool

"If we get by Ft. Lauderdale and Stranahan we could go all the way," replied Coach Tom Pepper when he was asked about the potentials of his team, early this spring.

The above feelings were shared by both swimming coaches, Mr. Pepper, and Miss Roberta Ryan.

Even losses to the above teams would not prevent their compiling better records than last year's squad, with the boys having a 4—6 record, and the girls having a 6—4 record.

The Titans played each Broward County AA team at least once, and took on powerful Pine Crest, because as Coach Pepper sees it, top competition improves the team through the year and helps them win under pressure.

The boys were led by state prospects Greg Langley, who swims well in all events, and Dick Geisinger, a top diver.

The girls also had state prospects in all event swimmer Laurie Dick and diver Julie Nuessle. The girls' team will grow in size, and strength because of the completion of the pool.

The boys squad was strong in the butterfly, with Chuck Shirk, and the breaststroke, with Bill Nelson.

Junior High Boys' Swimmers Enjoy Perfect Record

In only its third year of county competition, and finishing with a 9—1 record last year, the Boys' Junior High Swimming Team finished their season on a perfect 7—0 note.

The Baby Titan's wins came against Plantation, Olsen, Parkway, New River, and Pine Crest.

The late construction of the Nova Pool deprived the ninth-year squad of many practice hours.

Probably the greatest highlight of the season was the second time in Nova history that the Junior High Swimming Team had entered the meet, it came out on top. Pine Crest finished second behind the Nova squad.

Standouts on the ninth grade squad were Lan, and Mike O'Loughlin, Mike Drews, and Duane Steward.

1) Miss Beverly Martin judges a meet; 2) Lan O'Loughlin brings in five points on way to Nova victory; 3) Jeff Barnett executes a flip; 4) Ann Keplinger shows off her diving style to opponents and judges; 5) Linda Davis performs dive at a Nova meet; 6) Coach Don Sommersdorf confers with Kevin Kent.

Track Team Undergoes Rigorous Schedule

Coach Robert Anderson ran grueling practices once again in order to prepare Nova hopefuls for varsity track competitions.

Two Nova seniors, Pete Suni and Charles Forman, attempted to shatter their own school records during their last year of competition. Forman, in the discus, and Suni, in the high jump, had excellent chances for county honors. Suni had to clear six feet while Forman needed to hurl over 145.10 feet.

In the running-events, Craig Kamp ran the mile with Hal Knabb competing in the two-mile event. John Sorel and Mike Clark competed in the 880 and 440, respectively. Dick Peavy ran the high hurdles.

Top opposition to the team came from Lauderdale and Stranahan.

Boys' Tennis Team Wins Despite Disadvantages

There are a few new wrinkles in the Nova Tennis Team. A new coach, new players in four positions, ineligibility and sickness all have affected the team.

Yet once again the Titan netters started the season strongly with victories in their first two matches. On Jan. 9, the Nova team took on Hollywood Hills in the first match for boys' teams.

Nova blew the Spartans off the courts as they rolled on to a 7-0 victory. Not a single set was lost by Nova.

The Titans then traveled to Plantation on January 15. At the Plantation Municipal Courts, Nova handed Plantation its first defeat of the season. The Colonels could muster only two successful matches to Nova's five.

The Titan netters are now playing under the direction of Coach Ed Coffman who assumed the duties of head tennis coach Jan. 6. Coffman fills the position vacated by former Coach Dick Kantner.

Though the season had barely begun, Coffman had trouble arranging a lineup. Sophomores Brad Smith and Bill Yeager were ineligible, and Denny O'Shea had missed practice for basketball.

The number one and two tennis positions were both filled by veterans. Senior Ken Brantferger and Wayne Oliner, also a senior, won early matches. Jim Crawford, a new addition to the team, lost only two games in four sets at the third position by March. Phil Disque and Denny O'Shea, numbers four and five respectively, were also undefeated.

Coach Ed Coffman could not predict the success or failure of the '69 team. "Really, our season depended on whether or not the squad remained intact and how the boys performed during the matches. Once things settle down, we'll have a better idea of our abilities."

Many good players this year promised a better overall record than last year's 5—5 mark.

The girls' team saw Ft. Lauderdale High School as their strongest opposition. The top players on the girls' squad were Kay Ketzenberger, Judy Leerer, Barbara Burger, Peg Hood, and Cindy Lemak.

1) Jill Harbaugh and Ilona Finegold practice at the Nova courts; 2) Jim Crawford serves to his opponent; 3) Ken Brantferger strains to return his enemy's shot; 4) Ken Brantferger stretches far and wide to win his match; 5) Kay Ketzenberger works on her serve; 6) Barbara Burger, one of the girls' squad's best, leans for a shot in practice.

Smith Coordinates Nova Schools

Mr. Warren G. Smith, Coordinator of Nova Schools, directs the operation of the elementary and secondary schools. In this capacity he coordinates the planning and implementation of the Nova curriculum, keeping it within the scope of the Nova Plan, with the help of supervisors, teachers and students. He also coordinates the administration of the Nova Schools through the Assistant Directors and Administrative Assistants.

Much of Mr. Smith's time is spent representing Nova in meetings with the Board of Public Instruction and the Superintendent's staff. He communicates with reporters of the various news media and interprets Nova philosophy and principles for many clubs, organizations and individuals.

1969 Was the Year of the Change

To Mr. Dave Fitzpatrick, being assistant Director for Secondary Schools meant a lot more than a fancy title. It was identification with the students, public appearances, a rigorous schedule of classes, meetings, and countless other activities. Pride in the school was his watchword. Mr. Fitz was one of those personalities so familiar that he seemed an integral part of Nova. The quick-speaking enthusiast was always there—but then he was gone.

1969 was the year of the change. Mr. Fitzpatrick resigned in early March for health and personal reasons. Nova welcomed Mr. Hilton Lewis as the new principal.

Mr. Lewis was eager to learn, observant and sharp behind his mild manner. He introduced himself to the students and said he wanted to work. It was easy to see that he was proud to be here. So the pace of Nova continued and Mr. Lewis plunged into school life, meeting the teachers and students, learning the people and their ways. He asked for help and faculty and students responded positively.

Mr. Dave Fitzpatrick

Mrs. Lewis Is Student Friend and Champion

Mrs. Carolyn Lewis is the woman closest to us.
Try to catch her . . .

Well, what do you want?

Mrs. Lewis?

Brisk trot over there (Ticka-ticka-ticka-ticka)

Is Mrs. Lewis around?

No, she's on campus somewhere with some visitors, you might try the Language Building.

Hurrying . . . hoping to catch her . . . really important.

Out again into patio, who's turning into the English Building? Don't let her get away!!

Full run, pant, pant, through the people in the door, collapse on office floor in a frenzy.

May I help you?

Mrs. Lewis, it's Titan Week!

Yes, I know.

We've contracted the entire air force to fly over the stadium and they cancelled on us. Mrs. Lewis, what can we do?

Well, I'm sure you can get a very nice float together.

Wonderful idea! We'll have to have it approved by you.

When can I find you again?

Well, Tuesday morning, I'll be busy with testing and that afternoon I have some conferences. Thursday, mods 1 and 2 I meet with the I.C.C. and then with Jr. Student Council, then Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Oh, but that afternoon, I have to help the Follies Committee and Friday, if you come in either before ad-com, oh dear, that seems to be all that is free, I'll be glad to help you. Mrs. Lewis, homecoming is Friday night.

Oh, it is, isn't it? You know everything goes so fast!!

Mrs. Lewis, do you mind if we ask you for one final favor?

No, go right ahead.

Mrs. Lewis, can you drive a truck?

Administrative Assistants Prove to Be "Human"

You got schedule problems, my friend? Go see Mrs. Alma Anthony. She'll give you such a deal as you never saw in your life. Spanish for German, Mod 2 for Mod 6, she's the lady who cleans up the computer's failures. However, there are a few catches, to the bargain such as teacher approval and sundry other items. Hers is the job of knowing all about a great number of active students, their busy days and just how to make them more or less academically smooth. Sometimes it's amazing how this woman can smile when she knows very well that you're marching into her office with bad news and a problem.

She makes time for enjoyable things, too, as her loyal debaters, J.V. cheerleaders and Peppettes, gather round. A very nice woman, who wields a mean pair of scissors when it comes to red tape involved in class juggling.

You woke up one morning and thought, "This is definitely not a straight day. It is more like a bell-bottoms and sweatshirt type." So you pass through the daily hassle with mother and feeling victorious, get to school. Suddenly, "Boy! Come here . . . !" March to the office of the side-burn getter, the long-hair hater, the vandal hunter. Your vocabulary is reduced to mumbles. So keep a clean nose and he's your pal. This man gets a lot of grief. But just talk to him someday. His heart really isn't a rulebook. The Max Kitson helping hand is a good thing to have in the clutch.

Mr. Donald Jarrett . . . You see him when your bus card says something like Stop #10 in Pompano and you live in Hollywood. You see him when a definite communication problem with a teacher arises and somehow (through no fault of yours, naturally) a teacher gets a little bit unhappy.

"Mr. Jarrett, sir, (Your Majesty), my teacher said to come see you."

"Yes, well, what's the trouble, or were you causing it?"

"No, sir, I wasn't doing anything."

"Well, then, why are you here? It seems to me I saw you last week for no specific reason, also."

You admit all, arranging the words until you're the victim. The whole fiasco ends short and to the point.

"Now you go back to class and next time I hear of you horsing around like that we're going to call your parents. Understood?"

That is no question . . . it's understood.

Guidance Department Listens, Aids, Suggests

The good Samaritan to all of those falling by the academic wayside and the sole support of college hopefuls, the Guidance Department goes 90 mph every day of the week.

Mr. Virgil Morgan, Director, calls, finds out, counsels, and answers all those questions your puzzled face poses.

What's your line? Go to Guidance and find out. It's an office of important decisions that students must make, with the help of Mr. Ward, Mrs. Pettigrew, Mr. Van Arsdall, Mr. Rohrbach, Mrs. Matonis, Mrs. Smernis, and Mrs. Downing.

Nova provides group guidance for all grade levels and weekly seventh-grade guidance mods any Nova student can drop in on free mods. A room for student use filled with educational and occupational information became a popular place for students this year.

Resource Centers Abound with Opportunities

Nova Resource Centers became the most popular spots on campus in 1968-69.

Miss Edna Schaefer, head librarian, one of the busiest ladies in school, supervised the various Resource Centers, and, in addition, maintained an informal atmosphere, allowing students to engage in a variety of individual activities.

Resource Centers, operating on a decentralized plan, provide many technological devices for learning not found in traditional schools, such as microfilm produced on campus, video tapes made by both faculty and students, and a Chester dialogue system.

Mrs. Helen Mattison, former head librarian, left early in the year for a new position in the county office, to be succeeded by Miss Schaefer. Formerly in charge of the Math Resource Center, Miss Schaefer continued the programs of 1967-1968, including keeping the centers well stocked with the latest literature of the various disciplines and maintaining a professional library for faculty and staff.

English Teachers Relate Literature to Life

English department—probably the most diversified of all the departments. A collection of teachers who are more than just teachers. They're involved with students as sponsors and producers of shows, their patron saint is Macbeth. The department is headed by Mr. Robert Vignola, former teacher. He likes classrooms and students and spends much time among them. This department is the home of the aesthetic—drama, poetry and philosophy both old and new. It is the headquarters for debate, yearbook, senior follies, newspaper, honor society, and literary magazine. A place of mobility with students and teachers coming and going. Good people and good things happening in English.

Beautiful People Are Always Reaching out to You

Unfortunately, grammar had to show its ugly head this year, but such was the necessity. Juniors had a new lab program, seniors chose their type courses, seventh graders learned how to discuss, the tenth year studied humanities.

Freshmen can now distinguish between novels and essays and eighth graders have an idea of the methods of communication. Perhaps one of the nicest things about the English department is the clerical office.

This is where that aroma of coffee that sometimes permeates the resource center begins. It's the storehouse for props, costumes and overnight bags. Two lovable ladies behind typewriters greet you as you enter. They are typical of the department—really "beautiful" people.

Social Studies—Confrontation with Current Issues

Social studies is a broad subject, and this year, the department came in contact with every important facet. The emphasis was on neomulti-media. Students abandoned the traditional textbook for films, current news magazines, newspapers, and special television reports.

Mr. John Clark is supervisor for social studies for levels K-12, and runs a tight department.

Since 1968 was an election year, it was also the social studies' year to shine. Current events became an important factor, and the department ran their own private presidential poll, which closely paralleled national election results.

Social studies brings out the liberal and the conservative nature in us all and provokes talking, debating, and, of course, arguing.

Seniors found out a few things as they tried to bluff their way through term papers and book reports. No matter what the subject matter, somebody in social studies had been there or read the book.

Variety of Tech Sciences Pleases Specializers

When questioned as to his plans for '68-'69 Mr. Al Rapp, supervisor, answered, "survival." This statement can be justified by the fact that tech science is a menagerie of typewriters, presses, paper cutters, brushes, and all the people that use them.

The much utilized Graphics Department operates at full speed. The courses are widely varied, the interests are far flung and the students enjoy the practicality of the individual courses. A new course in American industries began this year and electronics inherited an electric organ.

This is the place of electives and the people who elect them have a wide choice from which to choose. From future businessmen to artists, from homemakers to computer programmers—they all go to tech science.

There are many who think a word is a word no matter how you slice it. That is, until they attempt to learn a few in a foreign language. To master the skill of verbalizing foreign language students this year (as always) kept on practicing and repeating in five foreign languages.

Drills and dialogues make up the international world of learning and Mr. Moreman Collett, department head, seems right at home in his cosmopolitan setting. The language building strangely resembled a travel agency as teachers stressed their respective cultures with colorful posters.

Science is Progress and Discovery

The Science Department this year continued its program of progress, or perhaps maintain, at your own rate—a unique Nova concept. For many ambitious budding scientists, the system worked very well—there were some tenth graders in physics classes and eighth year students in chemistry classes. Then there were those less motivated who needed a slight shove and were put on a personalized track—aimed at fitting the needs of the respective student.

As supervisor of the science department, Mr. W. O. Viens reviews each learning activity package for suitability, plans many LAP's with different year level teachers and observes the various laboratories and classrooms in the two science buildings. When the seventh grader enters Nova he begins with a generalized course scanning all aspects of science, the eighth grade studies atoms and electricity with "fundamental particles," ninth year begins a long year, or perhaps many years, with earth science (Time, Space and Matter). If and when one finishes TSM he begins with a trimester of chemistry followed by a year of biology, then completes the second half of chemistry, because each course is dependent upon the other. Last in the required program is Harvard Project Physics. Many seniors can be observed exempting infinite numbers of goals, always at the end of each grading period, in an attempt to qualify for early graduation. There are no conventional lectures, the student is put on his own to seek out the resources and discover science with the help of the instructor, if he desires. In its diversity, this department is in reality a practice of—"Scientific Methods for Learning in a Scientific Age."

Math Continues Trend Toward Self-Instruction

During the 1968-69 school year, the Nova Math Department continued the development of materials of a self-instructional nature (LAPs), and increased its experimentation with teaching techniques that allow for the individualization of instruction such as team teaching and creation of a testing center.

The Mathematics seminar was being coordinated with Nova University with the help of Dr. Joseph I. Lipson. A Skills Development Program designed to reinforce the basic computational skills (for those who need it) began a "pilot study" stage. This program was designed to compliment the existing curriculum and allow the student to continue on the regular sequence while working on reinforcing the basic skills.

The Nova Math Department worked closely with the IMS (Interrelated Math and Science) project.

Under Math Department supervisor, Mr. Lawrence Wantuck, the Nova Mathematics Department offered a total of 17 different courses in mathematics ranging in difficulty from elementary school to college-level mathematics.

In a conventional school, the length of time for completion of a course is arbitrarily set at either a semester or a year. Courses must be taught at a pace that meets the needs of the "average" student, thus leaving the slower student in a state of awe and the faster student completely bored. This also places the teacher in the position of usually attempting to "cram" in much of the material so the course can meet the pre-set deadline.

The Nova Mathematics program is a non-graded, or continuous progress program. This means that the pace at which a student moves through the subject matter is determined, to a great degree, by his ability and interests. Some courses will take one year or less, and others will take considerably longer. The criteria for completion of a course is not dependent on the fact that the school year ends, but on the fact that the student successfully completes all units in the course. Obviously, the more capable student, who finishes courses more rapidly than the average student will have more time to take advanced courses not normally offered in secondary schools, while the slower student who is also required to take mathematics throughout his high school career, will need every one of those years to acquire a good, basic mathematical background.

Music Department Develops Young Talent

Music has become one of the most popular subjects offered at Nova.

Mr. Tom Williams, Nova instrumental music teacher, instructs students in the band program. Aided by Mr. William Lawson, students interested in playing an instrument can join, according to ability, one of the five levels of instrumental music. A course in music theory and appreciation is also offered.

The choral music department, headed by Mr. Dennis Hage and Mr. Allen Hill, offers choruses for all interested students. There are girls choruses and boys choruses as well as an advanced mixed chorus. Seventh graders are offered a year course in one of the areas of music offered.

The music department has enhanced the cultural aspects of our school in its endeavor to emphasize the appreciation of music.

Phys. Ed. Provides Challenge of Competition

The goal of physical education is physical fitness. A wide variety of popular courses were offered. Classes were also attended by the many athletes who wanted to get in shape for their particular sports. The girls learned to co-ordinate themselves and sometimes lost a little weight in the modern dance classes. With the new swimming pool a course in swimming began. Courses were offered in wrestling, basketball, and football as well as bowling, on certain days, for only fifty cents.

Seniors were pressed into fulfilling P.E. requirements for early graduation.

Special People Assist in Variety of Ways

Many facets of Nova help to keep the system functioning. For students, the cold drinks of water from the old administration building bring to mind the clinic and Mrs. Peg Hohmann's menagerie of sickly students. She was always one step ahead of the infinite phony excuses given to her. When by some strange phenomenon there was an ill student, Mrs. Hohmann was always ready with the thermometer, even if the student had a broken leg.

If someone dared to walk past the "no one beyond this point" sign, he would invariably encounter Mrs. Anne Jacobs, the "boss" in data processing, wielding a mark-sense pencil in one hand and the key punch with the other. This center enabled many computer students to punch their own programs. Here, progress reports came for filing and processing, group test data was formulated, and even football scouting information was produced.

Mrs. Elaine Belles, Mrs. Mary Jo Duchemin, and Mrs. Priscilla Tindell, assisted faculty, students and administrators in sundry ways. Visitors were aided by everyone, of course, but especially Mrs. Marion Laskey, Mrs. Mildred Tong, and Mrs. Susan Gilcrest.

In the TV studio dwells the agreeable and optimistic Mr. Jerald Trago. His cohort Mr. Rocco Sabino cooperates with many outlandish students and their attempts to create video tapes. All can identify with the school-wide participation in the ad-com show, "Hello World," the morning TV program where students are super-stars, reading announcements and providing various forms of entertainment, including the pledge to the flag and the National Anthem. Organizing the attendance aspects of the day, are Mrs. Ethel Dibella and Mrs. Shirly Hord. They are always busy preparing ad-com folders and checking on tardies and off-campus fiascos.

A reading teacher and a teacher of the blind are two of the special people helping Nova students.

Any Titan who is a regular patron of the snack bars will have a place in his heart for the serving kitchen ladies, in their never-ending vigil by the Tuesday tub of beanie weanies and the Titan Burger bin. Planner of everyday's "piece de resistance" is Mr. Thomas Nolan.

The custodians, who really like kids, seem to work the patio area constantly.

Also on the patio with a well-stocked bookstore open at semi-convenient hours, Mrs. Mary (Frankie) Radke always greets demanding students with a happy disposition in her weather controlled chamber.

These are the people—the significant character of the Nova way of life—giving their time and effort to Nova.

The efforts that go into making Nova operate as flawlessly as possible, are often unnoticed. Many times the very people responsible for the successes of these efforts, are not given the credit due them. However, they are the people who often work overtime and who spend much time on the planning and the organization that is obviously directing the success of the Nova system. The daily tasks performed by these people are often among the most important, and very few lack significance. Even though these people are often taken for granted, they are there, working with effort to make Nova the interesting place it is.

Seniors Prove Leadership with Creative Ideas

1) Marietta Benevento headed the Senior Follies committee and acted as emcee of the highly successful program. In the past Marietta participated in Music Man, Can-Can, and last year's Cabaret; 2) Jeff Crane came to Nova as a junior and was elected president of the Senior Class; 3) Terry Goss and Arthur Sterngold proved their leadership through student government work. Terry was a major force behind the new constitution and Arthur served as President of the SSC; 4) Larry Gardner headed the Nova Vue as editor for two years during which the paper received recognition from the Miami Herald Press Association as one of the most outstanding papers in the state.

1) Everyone's favorite Oriental, Edie Feng held the offices of Senior Class vice-president, ICC secretary, Anchor treasurer, and assorted others. She was a Titanaire and served on the Miami Herald Teen Board. 2) Kathy Keplinger, has been a cheerleader for six years and is an active member of Keyettes. 3) Susie Stevens, the 1969 Prom Queen, was Junior Class secretary, Senior Class director and Anchor director. She was also a cheerleader for four years and won the Titan Award this year, as best all-around senior. 4) Rudi Miranda with his boundless energy was a Junior and Senior Class director, a member of Interact and student trainer for the football team. 5) Andy DeGraffenreidt, known for his NTP work, was also a member of SIRAC, Key Club, and Debate Club

Athletic Seniors Lead Titan Varsity

1) Ken Brantferger has been on the tennis team for three years and played number one singles in his senior year. 2) Judy Engle has excelled in swimming for two years. 3) Charlie Forman began playing varsity football in his sophomore year. He began this season as linebacker but after suffering an injury, served as a coach the rest of the season. He is also on the track team.

4) Harry Balestrieri played short-stop on the baseball team and was also a member of the football team. 5) Dick Geisinger, the number-one diver on the boys swimming team, placed third in state diving competition last year. 6) Craig Kampe runs cross country, the mile and the two-mile in track. 7) Bob Whalen wrestled in the 156 lbs. class and finished his season with a 7—1 record. 8) Pat Jarvis was All-County and All-Region guard for the Titan basketball team and he averaged 21 points a game.

Seniors Seek an End to Justify the Means

They were, as a matter of course, "the best class ever to graduate from Nova."

Lead by president Jeff Crane, vice-president Edie Feng, secretary Barb Seybert and treasurer Jan Harbaugh, the class of '69 sponsored an extravagant prom at Miami Beach's Eden Roc, presented the "Basin Street East" follies and promoted another Ned Skiff-organized car rally.

The class of '69 was a class of firsts. They were the first class to complete the six year Nova sequence, the first class to have a championship football team (even though it was when they were in the ninth year), the first class to win the District Championship and to send their basketball squad to the Regional Tournament.

In what many people consider the briefest and most successful money-making project in Nova history, the seniors raised over $35 during approximately eight minutes at a class meeting when baffled Jeff Crane was literally showered with 25¢ donations from the crowd to support a drive to reimburse beloved Mr. Gerald Klein for the countless history books which were borrowed from, but never returned to him.

They were the class that simply wouldn't comply with administrative codes. They had longer sideburns, shorter skirts, bluer blue jeans.

Senior year was full of physics, history and college applications, caps and gowns, "Auntie, hope you like my picture," SAT scores, interviews, March release and graduation. The class of '69 survived the past, live in the present, and are faced with the future.

Juniors Organize and Create Their Own World

The dynamic Class of 1970 met late last May to organize themselves and elect officers. They chose the vivacious brunette, Burnett (Karen, that is) as president, Dennis "Fighting Irish" O'Shea as vice-president, Cindy Petrovich, secretary, and Linda Pesa, treasurer.

Though the seniors elected to hold an exclusively senior prom rather than including the juniors as in the past two years, the juniors were active in several schoolwide functions. At the SSC Carnival in October, they sponsored a booth featuring crab races and during Titan Week, with the help of their creative advisors, Mrs. Rhoda Radow and Mr. Ed Hoffman, the juniors entered an actual garbage truck with the theme "Dump the Bulldogs" in the float competition.

The juniors had the distinction of receiving their class rings earlier than any previous class as they placed their order at the end of the sophomore year.

Dennis O'Shea discovered what being vice-president was all about when Karen Burnett moved to Alabama in early December. The traditional Candy Cane Sale began later in December and left behind many sticky fingers, cellophane wrappers and a considerable boost in the treasury.

Looking forward to their final year of high (upper) school, the juniors can expect at least one more class meeting and a world full of Physics and Contemporary History.

1) Karen Burnett, Junior Class President; 2) Ralph Hutson and Tom Allaire discuss a book for English.

Sophomores Are Up and Coming People

The sophomore year is a year of transition. As a seventh-year student, one must learn to adjust to the mysterious ways of the Nova Plan and after three years, suddenly the whole world is new. Sophomores learn about the Senior Student Council and about service club initiations. Sophomores learn that Titan spirit can increase when basketball season comes around and Brad Smith plays varsity. Sophomores learn that high school life is just like junior high except that the work is harder, the grades count for college and the NEDT's are only a beginning in testing.

School became more of an adventure this year. The English teachers indoctrinated tenth graders with tons of seemingly indigestible humanities materials. Much frantic reading took place as weekends were spent finishing Hamlet, Oedipus Rex, and A Picture of Dorian Gray. American History is always an experience, as is reliving the Revolution and the Civil War within two weeks.

The Science Department welcomed sophomores with open arms and units of chemistry and biology. Math courses ranged from algebra to calculus.

The Class of 1971 has come of age and is officially part of the senior high. Being a sophomore is a learning experience.

1) Joyce Richards looks over her typing assignment; 2) Tom Mitchell reviews some Spanish before class on an outside bench; 3) Luanne Fitzpatrick works as a Junior Varsity cheerleader on their Titan Week car float;

There Must Be Something Good about

Finally the Class of '72 had a name. No longer were they simply ninth graders or junior high people, but now they were freshmen. The newest group to join the senior high crowd had their own identity. They had their own scholars, athletes, leaders, and spirit. Andy Caster, Ronnie Sepielli, and Julie Spechler led the Junior Student Council to the most outstanding year ever, as the candy sale proved to be the greatest undertaking in Nova Junior High history.

Curriculum included World History as it's never been taught before. Freshmen women cooked and sewed their way through home science while the men chose a technical science elective, usually drafting or graphics. Science classes featured trips to the Grand Canyon and the moon via experiments, while the English department provided an introduction to John Steinbeck with The Pearl, and Shakespeare with Macbeth.

The ninth year is a beginning. Suddenly, grades count for college entrance (such a rude awakening for many). At last, service club membership is opened to select freshmen. Which shall it be, Anchor, Interact, Exchange, Exchangettes, Key, or Keyettes? Freshmen are the high folk of the junior high, the low citizens of the senior high. Let it be known though, freshmen have a future, even if it's only as sophomores.

Eighth Graders Begin to Emerge as Individuals

Eighth grade at last. The seventh grade seemed as if it would never end, but La Florida and Greek myths are all in the past. New and better things emerged. "The King and I" and "The Sound of Music" may never be the same since the English classes presented scenes from these Broadway hits. In Social Studies eighth-year students found a replacement for Jean Dixon as Kuder Preference tests predicted the future, be it scientific, musical, clerical or in social service. It's the Nova way. Occupational field trips allowed students to investigate vocations by visiting places such as the airport, courthouse, and hospital.

The JSC candy sale gave students a cause to support. The success of the sale was largely due to eighth-year support efforts.

On the social side, there were plenty of junior high dances and "The Echoes" became a household word. When there wasn't a dance, there was usually a Bar Mitzvah to celebrate.

Next year there will be more work, more fun and even a football team. Wow!

Seventh Graders Accept the Nova Challenge

1) Mr. Arthur Watts helps students with seventh-year science; 2) Katie Woodward finds the photographer interesting; 3) Students exchange a secret handshake after class.

The seventh grade is a searching year, beginning in total confusion, and retreating to a semblance of order. Memorizing schedules, names, locker combinations, room numbers. Searching for recognition, acceptance. A big school, where everyone is older, is a threat—a threat to lunch when you can't hold your own in a line, a threat to toes when for some reason you aren't seen during the mod break crush, and a threat to ego.

Those who fit in soon find that high school demands, demands, and demands more. The security or order is lost when Spanish, Math, English, and Social Studies descend on you in one night. Would you believe the end of the grading period and nothing's been done in Keedy yet? (What's a grading period?) Nova elementary students got their first dose of report cards and promptly succumbed.

But seventh grade is also growing up, the end of the elementary school stigmas, and the adoption of an adult way of education. Pride in themselves and their school is developed during the seventh grade and never again lost.

New ideas are growing and expanding at Nova High School. The community and business world will benefit from the young people who have gone through this learning process.

The youth of today have a definite effect on our economy. Their buying power has increased so much that businesses are now catering to the younger generation.

This portion of the Olympian, the Advertising Section, shows Nova students taking an active interest in the growing and prosperous business community.

A Career With Winn-Dixie

Winn Dixie Stores, Inc. is the eighth largest food chain in the country with over 700 stores in eleven states. We are looking for young men with high school and college educations for management training. The more education you have the better . . . so, if at all possible, you should go to college. When you are ready to look into the opportunities offered at Winn Dixie, contact W. S. Cail, 1051 S.E. 8th St., Hialeah, Florida. There is a bright future for you with Winn Dixie.

One of the fastest growing communities in the county, Cooper City, just west of Davie, has grown into a beautiful, all purpose development including residential sites and recreational facilities, all situated in one convenient area. A challenging golf course now serves the residents of this busy suburb, and it has already seen much use by eager golfers from all over Broward County. This new community is now being developed by young, civic-minded citizens who are making Cooper City an exciting place to live and work.

To all of the hard working students, parents, faculty and the Aquatic Committee, whose efforts have made this the year the pool was built.

Nova Parents Association

Congratulates

Senior Class of '69

Mrs. Marty Ritz,
president, NPA

The Nova Parents Association has provided Nova High School with many beneficial services. The Nova Newsletter, the Open House Program and the Drug Alert Program are just a few of the many projects of the Nova High Parents Association.

A faculty welcome luncheon awaits the new teachers each year as they enter Nova.

Many NPA parents serve as aides in the clinic, clerical offices and resource centers.

NPA parents chaperone nearly all school functions, assisting teachers and sponsors.

"This is what we're here for, to give service where it is needed," so states Mrs. Marty Ritz, N.P.A. president.

Mr. Fitzpatrick Leaves Nova After Six Years

When Nova opened its doors for the first time in Sept. 1963, Mr. Dave Fitzpatrick was our principal. At that time during orientation all of us ran around in total confusion and awe. There were no veterans, no traditions, no Nova for that matter. And then Mr. Fitz came on TV and told us that he could only look at our beginning as a challenge to become the best. He promised us the best, the total effort. And that was the spirit in which he worked throughout the six years of his administration.

The systems came and went, and we tried this and that, revised, innovated, changed and grew. Mr. Fitzpatrick embraced his job with a total dedication, an enthusiasm fired by a true belief that Nova's promise of better education could and would be fulfilled. His support of Nova knew no limits, his enjoyment of our school was obvious to all. The man was personable. He believed in the worth of the individual student, as the backbone of Nova. His time here was spent in involvement. He could not be detached from such a thing that meant so much to him.

Mr. Fitzpatrick gave "extree effort," time, and personality to his job and he will be missed.

A SPECIAL THANKS TO . . .

Mrs. Pat Brown and Mrs. Eleanor Clay, the English Clerical Office ladies, in addition to doing an unbelievable amount of work for us, could always find time to pat my hand and say, "Everything's going to be all right."

The entire English Department who encouraged us and never griped when my kids missed class a time or two to work on yearbook deadlines.

Mrs. Gertrude Meyer, Mr. Frank Ryan, Mr. Richard Broekhuizen, and Mrs. Ferne Gehr, from whom we borrowed most frequently, time, talent, and supplies.

Mrs. Carolyn Lewis, who smoothed the way and always found time for our problems.

. . . finally, of course, . . . the yearbook staff, the "Grooviest gang" in the whole world.

Edwene Dempsey, Advisor

A Year of . . .

... Individual Expression

Live, my brother, for the dusk approaches, casting the long shadow upon the face of the walkers. Walk alone—together.

This is an authentic John Hancock solely done by one Sandy Turner and for the benefit and pleasure of one Mark Rowe. Take it easy and enjoy

BOB
CLASS of '69

Dear Mark
Remember all the great times we had together, especially in 9th gr. I'll always remember your great sense of humor!
Good luck Always,
Dave
08-69

Mark
you are a lot and tomorrow will take you.
Good luck and good love,

To "The Man",
This is tough to pay, but, gulp, good luck in the future. (That wasn't so hard after all!)
